About ORCID

1. What's ORCID ?
   ORCID Researcher Number is an identifier number (Persistent ID) that researchers can obtain themselves, administered by an international nonprofit organization ORCID, Inc.

2. What's benefit?
   ・Based on this number, the research results and the activities history of each researcher will be linked, and it is connected to the system operated by journal publisher, university, research institution and many other academic information services.
   ・ORCID makes your information for your academic background, achievements and research results to be guaranteed with approval by your institute and related organization.
   ・Increase your name recognition.
   ・You can use the same Researcher Number throughout your life, even though you change your affiliation or residential country .
