

Kurita Museum 栗田美術館

The Kurita Museum Ashikaga Hall was opened in 1975.

The Kurita Museum has been approved by the Japanese Government and opened to the public under administration of the Japanese Museum Law. It is my belief that every cultural property should belong to the people and absolutely must not be monopolised by any private individual.

The Museum is located in Ashikaga City, my native town. It is also famous as the place of 'Ashikaga Gakko'
